Do you like maps and want to make a difference?

Then volunteer to learn to map places around the world, from remote to local places and in between.

Help support humanitarian mapping!

Help to map vulnerable places in the developing world to directly support life-saving work of humanitarian and development organizations on the ground in places suffering from natural disaster or poverty.

Or map things locally right here in North Dakota and Minnesota.

Learn to map buildings, roads, and other important features.

Day: Thursday, November 19, 2015

Time: 9:30am-9pm

Place: 116 O’Kelly Hall (GARSL Lab)

Come whenever you can for as long as you want.

Tutorials on getting started with mapping at these times:

9:30am, 11am, 12:30pm, 2pm, 3:30pm, 5pm, 6pm, 7pm, 8pm